

Alison MacDonald

Client Relationship Manager

Alison joined Roffey Park early 2019 having come from a Global Talent Development firm where she was most recently Director of Sales, Operations and Delivery in Scotland.

Alison started out in Finance then moved to HR working for two major multinational organisations. She then moved to a global consultancy business as Client Manager and has since spent 14 years as a trusted partner to client organisations who are looking to develop their people, and in turn their business performance. Alison has an extensive network within Scotland and her most recent clients are within Financial Services, Oil & Gas, Public Sector, Healthcare, Technology and FMCG.

Alison's approach to working with her clients is one based on trust, confidence and longevity. She provides a professional proactive service, offering timely and creative solutions.

Alison has a BSc in Psychology, is consistently seeking self development, and has a passion for helping others to realise their own potential through personal development.
