

George Kunnath

BEng, MBA

Senior Consultant

George is a consultant and facilitator with extensive experience in public sector reform and international development. Before joining Roffey Park, he worked as Regional Director for Europe and Africa in a Non-Departmental Public Body providing democracy support.

George enjoys supporting leaders to develop and implement their strategic visions. He comes with a strong strategy and business planning background and benefits from a global mindset that understands the importance of leadership in making strategy a reality.

He has worked with multiple levels of leadership within the public and not-for-profit sectors. George enjoys working with leaders who find themselves in complex and challenging political environments.

George has helped develop diverse, resilient and effective international teams. He spent the last 14 years establishing project management offices and developing country directors, team leaders and project managers in Europe, the MENA, and Africa.

As a facilitator, George has helped to facilitate better collaboration between various institutions within the public sector. Working in the United Nations Development Programme he has helped establish the UN Common Services in South Africa.

He has also supported the development of the Arab Institute for Parliamentary Training and Legislative Studies and the Ugandan Institute for Parliamentary Studies.

He has worked with the Foreign and Commonwealth Office, the Department for International Development, the National Audit Office, the World Bank, various UN agencies, international organisations, foreign governments, and charities.

George has an interest in political economy and big-picture thinking, and the need for leaders to understand how changing policy and complexity can impact their sector.

George's calm, insightful and inclusive approach to consulting, facilitation and strategic leadership has helped leaders engage with difficult issues, find common ground, and practical pathways to bring about change.